

- Deconvolution - a convolution where the input and output image is the same

- Transposed Convolution - Not a deconvolution
  - It is a convolution where the output image is larger than the input image
  - Used for super resolution / upscaling
  - Used for segmentation

○